The NCFR Audience

This year's theme, "Families and Innovation". Innovation is the creation of new objects or ideas - it is the process by which people introduce, rethink, adapt, surprise, generate, transform, and otherwise move some part of the world in a new direction. Innovation brings attention to human agency and creativity, and the importance of recognizing our capacity to think, act, and react beyond "the norm" or what is expected.

You can showcase your products and services to more than 1,200 family professionals. Over 70% of the conference attendees are employed in the family field academic professions (kindergarten through university). Another 30% are family agency professionals. All are looking for your latest materials for their classes and agencies. Conference attendance increases each year. Visit <http://www.ncfr.org/conf/current/annual.asp> to learn more.
